

No Time To Wait!

There is no time for us to wait,
No time to ponder and contemplate,
No reason to consider another date,
Now is when I control my fate,
Because clock on the wall has no hands,
And the hour glass has no sand,

There is no time to seek tomorrow,
No minutes and hours from which to borrow,
Take dreams back from the sea of sorrow,
Because the clock on the wall has no hands,
And the hour glass has no sand.

There is no time to hesitate,
No time for jealousy,
No time for hate,
No time for meaningless debates,
Because the clock on the wall has no hands,
And the hour glass has no sand.

The last days for you and me,
Where is our sense of urgency?
Unwise for us to sit and wait,
No man knows time or date,
As the days are numbered in this land,
The clock on the wall has no hands,
And the hour glass has no sand.
No time to wait!
